A diary entry

20th December, 2020

Sunny ☀

It's my birthday today. I thought I could be happy but it was the complete opposite!

It started off like a normal day. I just woke up. I was still really tired at that moment. But I saw my favourite food! Mango pancakes and chocolate toast! I went from being tired to being excited! Just because of my being excited, I realized it was my birthday! My mother said, ' Did you have a good sleep my dear? I think you did because today is your fourteenth birthday! So your father and I decided to bring you Ocean Park.' I was speechless. I wanted to go there for ages!

When we arrived there, my father brought me to the scariest roller coaster! He also said, ' Be a brave boy and go on that roller coaster , son!' And of course I had to listen to him. After riding on the roller coaster, I felt extremely dizzy! The world was spinning around! So I took a rest and ate some food in the fast food shop for about an hour or so. We walked around and saw a toy shop! I ran inside and told my dad to buy me a robot. He replied, ' OK. I will buy it and give it to you as your reward for being brave.' And so I have the new robot toy now.

Today was really not what I wanted but at least I know the 'scariest' roller coaster isn't that bad.

My Favourite Public Transport

My favourite public transport is MTR because there are three reasons why I like the MTR.

The first reason is that travelling by MTR is fast. The speed is very high. Then I can go to anywhere I want in a short period of time. We never encounter traffic jams because there are no traffic lights. So it will never stop without the station. When I want to go shopping, I would like to go there by MTR because I always arrive at the destination on time.

Second, it is cheap to travel by MTR. Children or students will only pay half for each journey. It is just a few dollars per ride. I am a primary student so I only pay half for the fare for each journey. Although I travel by MTR to different places, the fare is not higher than 20 dollars. I can also reduce the burden of my parents cause they think that the cost of travelling in Hong Kong is quite high.

Third, it is safe and comfortable to travel by MTR. It is cool inside when it is hot in the street. In summer, I really like MTR. When I go shopping by MTR on weekends, I find that it is not very crowded on MTR. I also can always get a seat. Although sometimes I have to stand on the MTR during rush hours, it is stable while the train is moving steadily. So it is also safe to travel on it.

To sum up , MTR is the most preferred transport because of the above reasons.

Last night, my parents and I went to Uncle Peter's home. We had dinner and watched TV together. We arrived home at one o'clock at night.

I was walking near the window when I saw a strange man. The man wore a mask, a black cap and a blue jacket.

First, he got off from a van. He tried to break into the clothes shop. Then he went inside the shop. After a while, he took a lot of expensive clothes and got on the van. I asked, 'What is happening down there?' Mum replied, 'I think he is a burglar. He is stealing clothes in the clothes shop. Let's call the police!' After seven minutes, the police arrived. The knocked at the door and asked us, 'Did you see the burglar?' I answered, 'Yes, I did. The burglar escaped with the clothes by the van.' The police said, 'Thanks for reporting the burglary. We will try our best to arrest the burglar.'

A Treasure Hunt Story

Last week, my friends and I joined the treasure hunt game. We need to collect an egg tart, a group photo of the second tallest building in Hong Kong, a fortune stick from a temple, an Ocean Park Map and a photo of a seahorse. We set off at Central MTR station.

First, we went to Tai Cheong Bakery. It was not far. It was 700 metres. It took 10 minutes to go there.

Second, we went to Man Mo Temple on foot. We took a fortune stick in the temple. It was not far. It was 400 metres. It took 5 minutes to go there.

Third, we went to IFC on foot and by MTR. It was not far. It was 1.6 kilometres. It took 16 minutes to go there. We wanted to take a group photo but the camera was out of battery. Luckily, we saw a man with a camera so we asked him to take a group photo of us. Then he sent the photo to my phone.

Fourth, we went to Ocean Park on foot and by MTR. It was a long way. It was 8.3 kilometres. It took 34 minutes. We took a map from the visitor centre to find the aquarium. We found the aquarium and took a photo of the beautiful seahorses.

Finally, we were about to arrive Central. Suddenly, a stray dog came out and it barked at us fiercely so we took a longer route to keep away from the dog. After that we ran to the Central MTR station. We did not win the treasure hunt. We felt happy even though we didn't win because it was fun. And at least we were the second runner up in the treasure hunt game.

Be A Good Pet Owner

Last Sunday, John took his cat to the park. At the park, he saw some of his friends so he went to play with them instead. Then a fierce dog barked at the cat, so the cat climbed up a tree.

When John and his friends finished playing, they saw John's cat stuck on the tree. The cat looked exhausted and afraid. They called the fire station immediately! After a while, a fireman came. He brought a long ladder and used it to save the cat. John was thankful.

After some time, a reporter came. He asked John, 'How do you feel when your cat was saved?' John said, 'I was thankful.' Everybody complimented the fireman. The fireman said thank you to them.

John was home, he saw himself on the news. He felt embarrassed. He learnt to pay more attention to his cat. Now he always takes good care of his cat.

The Wong family went on a picnic yesterday. They packed the backpack quickly. Mrs Wong made some delicious sandwiches. Mr. Wong searched the weather report on the internet quickly. Lily packed a kite. May gave cat food to the cat.

When they set off, the weather was good and sunny. Mrs Wong forgot to bring the sandwiches and left them on the table. The cat climbed into the backpack quietly but they did not notice it. They were joyful.

When they arrived at Sai Kung beach, Lily discovered the cat was in her backpack. Mrs Wong could not find the sandwiches in the bag. The weather was bad suddenly. Mr Wong sighed. They should go home. May was unhappy.

At last they went home to eat a plentiful dinner. May was happy now. Mr Wong said, 'Tomorrow we will go to the beach again.'

Last night, when I came back, it was already midnight. I heard a strange sound so I looked out of the window and saw a woman sneaking into a clothes shop. I didn't think much of it at first.

But when she came out of the shop with lots of clothes. I quickly told mum and dad. They did not believe me until I showed them. They quickly called the police. When we finished reporting the case, the robber was escaping. Then we heard a 'bang' sound. The robber crashed into a pole when she was trying to escape away. Due to that noise, the police then caught the robber. The policeman said that the robber would have not been caught without me. I was so proud of myself.

An accident

Sunny

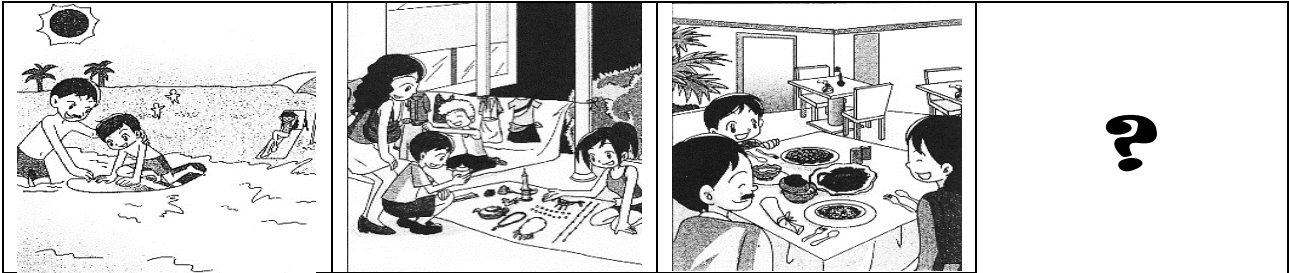

It was really a bad day because I encountered an accident. When I was running in the park, I sprained my left ankle. I felt so sad.

I did not know who irresponsibly threw a banana skin on the ground. When I ran fast on the runway of the park, I accidentally stepped on the banana skin. Oh! My god! I hurt my left ankle. Until now, I still feel very painful.

At that time, when I got hurt, I cried loudly. A woman came and helped me. She called a taxi and took me to the hospital. At that moment, I was warm although my left ankle was aching.

In the end, the doctor wrapped my ankle up and cured me. I thanked the woman and the doctor very much. I think I should be careful next time.

My trip to Thailand

I am having my holiday so my mum and dad took me to Thailand. I had a great time there.

On the first day, we went to the beach and my dad taught me how to surf. I almost fell into the water! It was difficult for me to control the surfboard but I did it! I was joyful!

On the second day, my parents took me to Wat Phra Kaeo. We looked around there. Wow! It was great and many people worshipped there! I took a lot of beautiful photos and we all had a great time. At night, we went to a night market. I suggested mum to buy some souvenirs because the things were special and nice and she agreed with me. I bought some earrings and bracelets.

On the third day, we went to Chiang Mai. It was comfortable to see the wonderful places there. My mum and dad loved there too. Then, we went to a Thai restaurant to have lunch. We ordered some Tom Yum Soup and Thai style fried noodles. It was delicious but it was a bit spicy!

On the last day, we went to Koh Phi Phi. The beautiful sea made me calm and comfortable. I loved the fresh air there. My mom said that the view was great.

I enjoyed my trip in Thailand. I hope I can go there again.

A terrible experience in a cinema

I had an unforgettable experience with my friend in the cinema today.

In the afternoon, I bought two tickets online and went to Happy Cinema with my best friend, Peter, to watch our favourite adventure film. We watched that film because my cousin had watched it and he thought that it was a great film. He suggested me to watch it.

Before the film started, we bought some delicious snacks from the snack bar such as some orange juice, two bags of popcorn and two hot dogs. After buying the snacks, the film was about to start. We did not want to miss any parts so we went to the hall with the entry tickets at once.

When the film started, we were very excited. We were eating snacks while we were watching the film enjoyably. While the story reached the climax, Peter suddenly whispered worriedly, 'Look! Mark! There's a cockroach crawling in front of your seat! What can we do?' I am a timid person so when I saw that cockroach, I poured all the popcorn out and screamed loudly, 'Help! There's a cockroach! It's so disgusting! Help me!' I couldn't help kicking the seat because I wanted to kick the cockroach away but it did not work. All the audience were staring at me with angry faces. The man who was sitting in front of me complained, 'Be quiet! We're watching the film!' I was very embarrassed and unhappy.

Luckily, a kind woman who was sitting next to me helped us to drive away the disgusting cockroach. I was very thankful for her but we missed the most important part of the film at last. We were very disappointed.

I had a terrible experience today and I learned a lesson that I need to be brave when I face problems.

An accident

Last Sunday, David and his friend went to the cinema. They were going to watch a film, Iron Man. David was hungry. He went to the hawker to buy a stick of curry fish balls. David smiled and said, 'Yummy!'

After that, he was going to jump over the rail because he was in a hurry. The hawker shouted, 'Watch out! It was dangerous!' The buses crashed with the cars.

David was hurt and his leg was broken. He cried loudly. His friends were afraid and worried. They said, 'Are you fine?' The taxi driver asked for help. Peter called the police and David's mother.

In the end, an ambulance arrived and the ambulance men sent him to the hospital. Luckily, David's leg was not hurt badly. He stayed in the hospital for two months. He could walk again. He learnt that he should cross the road carefully.

Letter to the Editor (by "Sea Turtle")

Dear Editor,

I am a friendly turtle and I am writing because human disturb the sea constantly.

The first problem we are facing is that we were killed by humans. People hunt us for meat and shells. Therefore, there are fewer and fewer sea turtles. We will soon be extinct.

The second problem we are facing is that we caught disease. People dump toxic waste into the sea. Therefore, we became ill and die.

The third problem we are facing is that we have no eggs to hatch. Unless people stop stealing our eggs, there are fewer and fewer eggs for us to hatch.

The fourth problem we facing is that we cannot find places to lay eggs, so there are fewer and fewer baby sea turtles.

We hope people could stop hunting us. Also, you should stop dumping toxic waste into the sea and stealing our eggs. Lastly, you should stop developing beaches.

Yours faithfully,
A poor sea turtle

A man and a monster

Once upon a time, there was a villager called Mark. The people thought he was as strong as an ox. He could lift up heavy things such as trees, a big rock and a lion.

One day, there was a big monster. It was as fierce as a lion. All the people were afraid of it. Then, they went to find Mark and told him about it. The people showed Mark the monster who lived in the cave. Therefore, Mark went to the cave to find out the monster.

Suddenly, the monster woke up and it walked out the cave. Mark was scared. He was as timid as a mouse. Fortunately, a cake fell out from Mark's pocket. The monster ate it and it loved the cake very much.

At last, Mark knew the monster liked eating cakes so he asked all the people in the village to give the monster a cake everyday so that the monster would not catch anyone. People thought Mark was very clever.

A strong man and a monster

There was a man named Mark. He was as strong as an ox. He could lift up heavy tree logs, huge rocks and even a lion. Everybody thought he was the strongest man in the world. Mark was very proud of himself.

One day, a terrible monster destroyed the town. It knocked down trees and broke houses. It also chased village people. In the end the town was left to bits and pieces. When the monster was leaving a woman followed it to its' home and told Mark where the monster was, she told him to fight with it.

When Mark went in, he was as brave as a lion but when the monster woke up it attacked Mark. He suddenly became as timid as a mouse.

Mark then walked back a bit and started shooting but the monster was not fazed. Then Mark threw a cupcake at the monster thinking it was a bomb. When the cupcake hit the monster's face, Mark knew the monster was going to die.

After that, the monster was still alive because it was only a cupcake! It also let the monster remembered its' cupcake habit and it turned to as gentle as a lamb and obeyed Mark. Mark told it to clean up the town and said sorry to the people in town about what it did. In the end everyone was happy even the monster.

An Accident

Yesterday, Daisy asked his friends to watch a movie and they met at the entrance of the cinema at 6 PM. The boys called Tom and Alex who were waiting for David to join them to watch a movie. David wanted to eat curried fish balls when he was watching the movie. So he bought fish balls from the hawker.

David saw his friends so he jumped over the railing. It was because he wanted to cross the road in a quick way. "Stop! It is dangerous!" shouted the hawker. However, David did not listen. He overlooked the hawker's reminder. He ran as fast as he could to his friends. When he was crossing the road, there was a high-speed bus driving towards him. David was shocked and he got hurt. Also the bus couldn't stop the brake and it caused a traffic accident. "Oh my friend! Be careful!" shouted the boys. His friends were worried but they couldn't do anything. The drivers were very angry because of David's action. He called the ambulance for David. David felt painful because his legs were broken.

Finally, David was told to stay in hospital for two weeks. His friends and family came and warned him not to cross the road in a dangerous way again. David nodded his head and agreed. He learned a lesson from this accident that he should never cross the road without using the zebra crossing.

The Best Present I Have Ever Had

I got the best present on my 12th birthday party from my mom. It was very shiny and bright like the sun. It was silver. It was made of metal so it was very hard. It was rectangular shape and in silver color. It was big. It was the best present ever because I could listen to music on it and call someone. Taking photos, playing games, getting emails, watching Facebook, it has big functions. It was the best and useful present ever. Do you guess it was an iPhone, but it was not! It was an iPad, the latest version - iPad. I liked it so much that I would cherish what I had got.

When I received the gift, I jumped with my happy face. I was so surprised about it. If you wanted to ask me what I would do with this present? I'd say, "I can do anything with my lovely present because it is a miracle, I love it very much!"
